VOL. 2, NO. 90. PRICE FIVE CENTS

HON. S. G. KELLY IS DEAD

HE WAS ONE OF THE LEADING REPUBLICANS OF STATE OF MISSOURI.

BORN IN PENNSYLVANIA MAY 27, '39

Came to Johnson County in 1868—
Died at 6:15 O'clock This Morning—
Interment at Knobnoster
Thursday Afternoon.

Hon. Samuel G. Kelly, one of Sedalia's most highly esteemed and prominent residents, died of a general breakdown, both physically and mentally, at the home of his son, C. C. Kelly, 906 West Fifth street, at 6:15 o'clock this morning, aged 69 years.

Mr. Kelly was a wonderful man, both in mind and body. He was born in Butler county, Pa., on May 27, 1839, his parents being Andrew and Jane Kelly. He received a good education at Sunbury academy, in Pennsylvania, devoting his time to labor during the summer months and education during the winter.

In 1867 he left home and went to Ohio, where on March 19, 1868, he was married to Isabella Dodds. Immediately afterwards he and his wife came to Missouri, where Mr. Kelly had previously visited, and settled on a farm near Knobnoster.

In 1872 he was admitted to practice at the bar before the Johnson county circuit court, and since that time has been recognized as one of the foremost of Johnson county's legal talent.

His reputation as a criminal lawyer was wide, and for a term of eighteen years he defended, almost without exception, every criminal arrested in and around Knobnoster and established an unprecedented reputation by not having a single jury verdict against him in any case.

Six years ago Mr. Kelly lost the sight of both eyes, due to cataracts, and since then he had been totally blind. He continued to make his home at Knobnoster, however, and last October, on the advice of his sons, he came to Sedalia to live with C. C. and Dr. S. G. Kelly, until a new residence, constructed to convenience Mr. Kelly in his blindness, could be completed.

Four weeks ago last Sunday Mr. Kelly, accompanied by his wife and little daughter, returned from a drive, and as he prepared to ascend a flight of steps leading to the home of C. C. Kelly he stumbled and fell backwards, sustaining injuries which gradually led up to his death.

The best of medical attention was rendered him, but owing to his age he grew constantly worse from day to day, and the family never expected to see him leave his bed again.

Two weeks ago he passed into a semi-conscious state, and since that time had remained in a stupor, never speaking and only partially recognizing anyone.

For twenty-five years Mr. Kelly held the honorable distinction of being president of the Knobnoster school board, and in 1884 he was elected a member of the Missouri legislature taking his oath of office a year later. At the expiration of his term he was re-elected on the republican ticket, and during his terms of office filled the position most honorably and creditably.

In 1889 he was elected a member of the committee appointed to revise the laws, and he also held places on other important committees in the legislature.

As a leader of the republican party he was one of the foremost. In 1892 he was nominated a complimentary vote for the governorship of Missouri from his own and several adjoining counties, and in 1888 he was one of the "big four" delegates to the republican convention in Chicago, at which time Harrison was nominated.

Mr. Kelly since his marriage had devoted much time to reading, especially to the reading of the history of the world. As evidence of that fact he continually asked that the world's history be read to him since the time when he lost his eyesight.

Mr. Kelly was a powerful man. Tall and robust, he seldom knew any sickness, but in spite of that fact he lived during the past twenty-five years as though he expected to die soon, frequently remarking that if he knew he would live to such a date he would do this thing and that thing.

As a husband and father, Mr. Kelly commanded the esteem of everyone. Devoted to his wife and children, there was nothing too arduous to do for their benefit, and he always displayed the greatest interest in their welfare.

He belonged to no lodge or society, neither did he hold membership in any church, but the actions of his daily life fully attested his true Christian spirit, in a more manifest manner than regular attendance at church.

Besides his wife, Mr. Kelly leaves five children, as follows: C. C., Dr. S. G., George, of Kansas City; Mrs. Walter Harrah, of St. Louis, and Ada

THE RED LIGHT DISTRICT

STEPS TAKEN TO DEPORT MEXICAN BAWDS FROM THE SOUTH.

IMMIGRATION OFFICERS AT HEAD

Arizona, Texas, Mexico and Other Southern Sections to Be Cleaned of Alien Immoral Women.

Tucson, Ariz., April 14.—Immigration officials have commenced a crusade which is likely to result in a great diminution in the population of the red light districts of the various towns and cities along the Mexican border.

A large proportion of the inmates of immoral resorts are Mexican women and these will be sent back to Mexico.

The deportation of this class of women is undertaken under the section of the new immigration law which provides that any alien who comes to this country and within three years thereafter becomes an immoral character may be deported.

Many arrests have already been made and a general cleaning up of the resorts along the border in Arizona, New Mexico and Texas is expected.

IN HOME HARBOR TODAY

Battleship Fleet, After World Record Cruise, Reached San Diego Today.

San Diego, Cal., April 14.—Its long and notable cruise through the southern seas and the changing times of the western hemisphere ended, the American battleship fleet, under command of Rear Admiral Charles M. Thomas, returned to home waters and cast anchors off the Coronado beach here this afternoon. The four days scheduled for the stay of the ships will be marked by a ceaseless round of gayeties.

Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, who is ill at Paso Robles hot springs, will be unable to be present and it is considered doubtful if he will be able to participate in any of the fetes to be given along the Pacific coast.

JUDGE GRAY DECLINES

Delaware Jurist Asks His State Not to Instruct for Him.

Dover, Del., April 14.—Prior to this afternoon's session of the democratic state convention a letter from Judge George Gray to Thomas F. Bayard, chairman of the state committee, was read, in which Judge Gray requested emphatically that the convention refrain from endorsing him for president. It is understood that in spite of his declination the convention will endorse him and instruct its delegates to vote for him.

FOR MURDER OF FAMILY

Man in Kansas on Trial for Killing His Wife and Children.

Ottawa, Kas., April 14.—A jury was secured today in the case of Frank Schneek, charged with the murder of his wife and two children at Centrepolis in February, 1907. Mrs. Mollie Stewart, who is charged with complicity in the crime, will be tried separately.

Death of William H. Moore.

William H. Moore, a brickmason, died of bronchitis at his home, 919 East Fifth street, at 11:15 o'clock last night, aged 57 years. A wife and one child survive. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

NOT A "CITY BEAUTIFUL"

UNTIL THE EYESORE AT THIRD AND OSAGE STREETS IS A THING OF THE PAST.

STAGNANT POOL WITH GREEN SCUM

Over at Upper Alton, Ill., Women Got Busy—From Afar Men Watched Society Leaders Who Were Handling Rakes.

The clean-up of the city last Friday, under the auspices of the civic department of the women's clubs, accomplished much in the direction desired, but still much remains to be done along the same line before Sedalia can justly be referred to as the "City Beautiful."

For instance, the lots at the northwest corner of Third and Osage streets, where the Missouri Central Lumber Co. yards were formerly located, are an eyesore that should be looked after before we proceed with the celebration in commemoration of clean-up day, some time after Easter.

There is an unoccupied shack on the corner, but the vacant ground to the west and north is covered with rubbish, and in the center is a pool of stagnant water, covered with a green scum, that is not only a nuisance, but also a breeder of manifold diseases. Look at it, if you like, and see if the Democrat-Sentinel has not sized it up about right.

Along the line of municipal betterments tending toward cleanliness and in consequence Godliness, the following from the St. Louis Republic of this morning is of interest:

Upper Alton society hates rubbish. Society women there are not afraid to work. They threatened to clean up the town, and yesterday several members of the Village Improvement association made good the threat.

As a warning that they do not intend to respect ownership, the women first sailed into a pile of debris on a lot belonging to one of their members, Mrs. T. F. Yerkes. The lot lies between the Barnard drug store and J. T. King's grocery.

Jackets were "skinned off" and serviceable gloves supplanted the elbow length variety when the women reached the lot. Merry widows were lung on posts.

Each woman brought her own rake. As extra rakes were in evidence, the idle men on the street watched the work from a safe distance.

After the debris was in a pile one of the leaders who knew how to strike a match in a vacant lot, applied the tiny flame, and soon the lot showed evidence of their toil. The women publicly announced they will "tackle" another lot today.

Those whose hands were blistered yesterday were Mesdames George D. Eaton, J. D. S. Riggs, John Leverett, A. M. Jackson, E. A. Cook and F. A. Eberlain.

DECIDED IMPORTANT CASE

Supreme Court Decree Really Means Primary Law Constitutional.

Jefferson City, April 14.—The supreme court today denied the application of the republican central city committee, of St. Louis, to instruct mandamus proceedings against the St. Louis election commissioners for the purpose of calling a city convention. The decision has the effect of holding the primary election law constitutional.

DEATH FOR THREE

Were Accused of Attempt on King of Spain's Life—Others Get Prison.

Barcelona, April 14.—John Rull, Herman Rull and Maria Queraltó were sentenced to death, four others were given prison terms and two accused were acquitted today for complicity in the attempt to assassinate King Alfonso at Madrid and Paris and for various other outrages in different parts of Spain.

MAY REVISE HOUSE RULES

They Are Declared to Be Complicated, Cumbersome and Arbitrary.

Washington, April 14.—Asserting that "it is the consensus of opinion of the highest authorities that the present procedure of the American house of representatives has become so complicated, arbitrary and cumbersome that most of its business has to be transacted under unanimous consent, suspension of the rules, or through riders on appropriation bills, a procedure so bewildering that comparatively few members of the house itself, much less outsiders, have any real knowledge of the rules," Representative Nelson, of Wisconsin, yesterday introduced a resolution for the establishment within ten days of a committee to reform the parliamentary practices of the house.

The committee is to consist of forty-six members, one from each of the states.

ARE TO ABOLISH PASSES

WESTERN THEATER MANAGERS DECIDE TO DO SO—NOT A PAYING BUSINESS.

ALSO REDUCE ADVERTISING SHOWS

Theater Owners Convene in Chicago for Purpose of Bettering Association's Interests—Four Hundred Houses Represented.

Chicago, April 14.—A movement to abolish complimentary theater tickets is one of the important matters under consideration at the annual meeting of the Middle West Theater Managers' association, which convened this morning at the Sherman house.

Managers of theaters in a dozen states are in attendance, and a project to extend the activities of the association, making it a national organization, will be considered.

W. W. Bell, manager of La Belle theater in Pittsburg, Kas., is president of the association. Four hundred playhouses are represented in the association.

Another important matter considered at the meeting is that of discontinuing certain classes of advertising.

Most of the managers agree that newspaper advertising affords the only profitable medium for promoting theatrical publicity.

One of the principal objects of the association is to protect managers and the public against worthless attractions, and in this it has been highly successful.

A TEMPORARY INJUNCTION

Against Removal of School Building in District 28.

William Albers, through Attorney Longan, today filed application before Circuit Judge Hoffman, asking for a perpetual injunction restraining A. L. Smith and J. W. Whitman, directors for school district No. 28, and Lou V. Ware, county treasurer, from drawing or issuing a warrant for the removal of the school house in that district.

A temporary injunction was granted on filing of a $500 bond.

Plaintiff states in the petition that at the annual meeting of the school directors on April 7, the defendants voted to change the location of the school site without due process of law, and asks that an injunction be issued deterring defendants from so doing.

MRS. HARTSHORN DEAD

Died at Her Home on West Seventh Street This Afternoon.

Mrs. Alberta Hartshorn, widow of John W. Hartshorn, succumbed to a six months' illness with a complication of diseases, at the home of her father-in-law, David Hartshorn, 219 West Seventh street, at 3:15 o'clock this afternoon. She had been bedfast during that time. One daughter, Hazel, 17 years old, survives.

Mrs. Hartshorn was well known throughout the city and belonged to the First M. E. church. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Mr. Butcher Is Coming Home.

James Wilkerson yesterday received a letter from Grant Butcher, a grocer, sent from Seattle, Wash., in which he said he would be home about May 1.

Mr. Butcher had contemplated going to Alaska, but abandoned the trip on account of the Yukon river being frozen.

B.B. RAY'S WORK FOR TAFT

ARMY PAYMASTER ROUNDS UP RAILROAD MEN FOR HIS CHIEF TO TALK TO.

HE EXPLAINS HIS LABOR VIEWS

One Feature of Secretary's Western Tour Characterized by the "Allies" as "Military Politics" With Vengeance.

Beecher B. Ray, a former Missouri Pacific conductor, but now a paymaster in the United States army with the rank of major, is written of as follows in a Washington dispatch of the 13th inst.:

The "allies," as they are known, or the opposition to the Taft propaganda for the presidency, through their journal bureau gave publication to the following tonight:

"Major B. B. Ray, paymaster in the United States army, accompanied Secretary of War Taft on his ten days' western trip as military aid, and is credited with having done some effective political work for his chief in Louisville, Chicago and other western cities. Major Ray was formerly connected with the Order of Railway Conductors and arranged meetings of members of his organization with Secretary Taft, at which the secretary delivered addresses explaining his attitude toward labor.

"The former head of the conductors' organization, Mr. Clark, is now a member of the interstate commerce commission, and a special effort is being made to ally sentiment against Secretary Taft among the members of this union. The meeting of conductors arranged by Major Ray at Louisville was attended by fourteen men, whom Secretary Taft addressed at some length.

"The conversion of Major Ray to Secretary Taft's presidential cause is occasioning some comment. A year ago the major, in common with many other members of organized labor, was active in another direction. In September he was peremptorily ordered to the Philippines, and it was understood at the time that Major Ray was being disciplined for undue political activity.

"In the autumn Secretary Taft visited the Philippines, and it is stated that the climate must have had some effect upon Major Ray's political feelings, since, after only three months' service in the Orient, he was given leave of absence for six months and returned to this country with Secretary Taft. He has since shown some signs of political activity, but they have been in behalf of the secretary of war. Major Ray's leave of absence will extend beyond the middle of June, and it is possible it may be still further continued. He is now accompanying Secretary Taft on his speech-making tours, and his special duty, outside of his military services, consists in 'rounding up' groups of railway men, in order that his chief may make labor speeches to them. It is claimed that this is not the only instance of military politics which is causing gossip in army circles."

AVERTED A THEATER PANIC

Manager Announced That the Fire Was Not in the Building.

New York, April 14.—At the performance at Flanery's theater in Newark, N. J., last night fire was discovered in the gallery ticket office. The blaze was small and the employees had almost extinguished it before the audience knew it, but some one outside, however, saw smoke issuing from an upper window and turned in an alarm.

Fearing a panic the management announced that there was a fire in the neighborhood and asked the audience to pass out quietly. With the exception of a slight rush when two women were knocked down, the crowd went out quietly.

AN ALLEGED KIDNAPER

Charged With Trying to Get Girl Witness From State.

Joplin, Mo., April 14.—An alleged plot to kidnap and remove from the state Nellie Willoughby, 13 years old, led to the arrest here yesterday of Jesse Jennings, who is held in jail in default of bail.

The Willoughby girl is the prosecuting witness in an assault case against Orville Sanderson. It is claimed that repeated efforts have been made to secure possession of the girl by friends of Sanderson and that Jennings was taking her from the home provided for her today, when he was arrested.

Dr. Fletcher Quite Ill.

Dr. C. E. Fletcher, the dentist, is seriously ill with pneumonia at his farm, six miles southwest of the city. He has been bedfast for the past week, and relatives and friends are considerably alarmed at his condition. Dr. C. B. Trader is attending him.

A LARGE LABOR MEETING

THOUSANDS OF UNION MEN CONVENED AT FORT WORTH, TEXAS, TODAY.

A GRAND CELEBRATION ARRANGED

Conductors, Engineers, Firemen and Enginemen, Trainmen and Federation of Labor Delegates Are in Attendance.

Fort Worth, Texas, April 14.—With thousands of union workingmen in the city, and a program including addresses by Governor Tom Campbell, President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, and President Charles Barrett, of the National Farmers' Union, the largest meeting ever held in Texas was opened in Fort Worth today.

Six state and interstate labor bodies will hold sessions here during the next few days and many entertainments, including a great barbecue, will be interspersed with the business session.

The conventions are the state conventions of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, the Order of Railway Conductors, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the State Federation of Labor, and the district meeting of Electrical Workers of the Second district, embracing Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arizona.

The state executive committee of the Farmers' union is also in session.

WILL GIVE A FREE LECTURE

At the First M. E. Church at 8 O'clock Friday Night.

Friday evening, April 17, at 8 o'clock, Miss Lucy Broad, of Cornwall, England, a gifted speaker of wide experience in mission fields, born on mission ground of English parentage, in the Fiji Islands, will deliver a free lecture at the First M. E. church.

Her lecture will be of special interest to all missionary societies, as she has had practical experience. Miss Broad is endorsed by the Countess of Carlisle, Lady Henry Somerset and by our own national president of the W. C. T. U., Mrs. Stevens, of Maine.

The public is invited to come out to hear this highly cultured speaker.

FOUR NEW BATTLESHIPS

President in Special Message Urgently Asks Congress to Build Them.

Washington, April 14.—Compressed into what would be not more than a ten-minute speech on the floor of congress, President Roosevelt today, in a message, urged that body to provide for the construction of four battleships of the largest and most approved type at once.

The arguments of the president to press his insistence on the naval increase program were few, but were calculated to be effective. China was held up as an example of the "peace at any price" doctrine, and Great Britain as having the naval policy to be emulated.

New York Democrats Meeting.

New York, April 14.—The democratic state convention was called to order this afternoon. The sentiment is entirely in favor of an unqualified delegation to Denver, although it is said that the convention may be given an opportunity to pass upon a resolution presented by Bryan followers in favor of the Nebraskan.

NOT DICTATED BY COOK

MR. J. H. EDWARDS DENIES CRITICISM OF JUDGE EVANS WAS INSPIRED.

WRITES TO PAPER AT MEXICO, MO

Mr. Cook Was Opposed to a Criticism of Judge Evans, Because the Latter Was Endorsed by Governor J. W. Folk.

Mexico, Mo., April 14.—Following the statement made by Judge W. N. Evans in a speech here recently to the effect that he had been unjustly criticised and attacked by the Jefferson City Tribune, through the influence of Sam B. Cook, the following communication addressed to Cecil M. Baskett, editor of the Intelligencer of this city, was received from J. H. Edwards, denying the Evans story of Cook's infidelity:

Judge W. N. Evans, in an interview published in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch Sunday, April 5, made the statement that immediately after the 1904 election an editorial appeared in the Jefferson City Tribune, of which he said I was editor, criticising his management of the campaign; that he had asked me if I wrote the editorial in question, and I told him I had not, but that Mr. Sam B. Cook had written it.

At Fulton on April 6, in a speech delivered at that place, Judge Evans said that the editorial appeared in the Tribune during the campaign of 1906, when he was a candidate or reelection to the chairmanship of the state committee; that he had come to me and asked me who had written it; that I had told him it was written by myself, but that Mr. Cook had supplied the information upon which it was based.

The statement at Fulton was repeated, I understand, in the speech delivered at Mexico on the following day, April 7.

I desire to say to you that Judge Evans never, at any time during the campaign of 1906, or at any time before or since, discussed such a matter with me. I never made any such statement to him or to any one else. I had no connection with the Tribune in 1904.

The paper was under my direction from early in January, 1906, until early in November of the same year. It was opposed to the re-election of Judge Evans to the chairmanship on the ground of party good, and I recall very distinctly Mr. Cook's attitude, which was deprecatory of the fight on Judge Evans, because, as he said at that time he thought it was bad politics to oppose Judge Evans, if Folk desired his retention at the head of the committee.

DAVE SUHLER FINED $100

Pleaded Guilty to Having Conducted Gambling House.

Dave Suhler, charged with conducting a gaming house, was fined $100 and costs by Judge Hoffman today, after he had withdrawn his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty to conducting a gaming house and permitting gambling to be carried on in his house. W. D. Steele was his attorney.

Three charges of selling liquor without a license were dismissed against Dr. W. D. Fansler, after the prosecution yesterday failed to secure a conviction on one count against the same party, due to Dr. Fansler's testimony that the house wherein the liquor was sold was owned by his wife and not by him.

The case of Henry Laupheimer, charged with letting a house for immoral purposes, was called late this afternoon, the following jury being sworn to try the case: T. L. Scott, Emmett Franklin, James Marsh, Charles Knox, W. S. Scott, Tim Delaney, J. T. Colaflower, J. J. Coats, Al Bradley, T. J. Hughes, D. B. Brenner and Parmenas Cole.

The Board of Equalization.

The board of equalization of Pettis county will adjourn late this afternoon or tomorrow, after sessions lasting several days.

During that time a large increase in taxation on property in this county has been assessed against quite a number of property owners, while a noticeable decrease on other lands was also made by the board.

Notices of the increase or decrease will be sent out and objections will be heard on the Fourth Monday in April.

THE HANDS OF FRIENDS.

There is in the tariff discussion no more silly gabble on the part of the stand-patters than their constant cry that the tariff can be safely revised only by its friends, and that they are going to do it after the election. Up on the degree of popular confidence reposed in this cry will depend in great measure their success in the coming contest. But all experience gives the lie to this pretension in showing that reform of such a sys tem as the Dingley tariff is never ac complished except by its enemies.

To go no further back in the his tory of tariff legislation, when the duties were so long that they would be denounced as free trade by the Danzells of this epoch, the only in stance of a revision in a downward sense was the compromise act of 1833. This movement was led by Henry Clay, the great compromiser, not at all because he deemed the du ties too high, but because it was important, in his estimation, to allay the violent and threatening anti tariff agitation in the south. This compromise, which ultimately re duced the average rate of duty to 20 per cent, was broken by the "friends" of the tariff in the act of 1842, that more than doubled this average rate.

Then came the revision of this short-lived tariff by its enemies in the act of 1846, which, though de nounced as "British free trade," was a moderate measure of protection.
So successful was this enactment of the enemies of a high tariff that in 1857 a combination of democrats and republicans—the latter led by Spe ncer N. P. Banks in the house and by William H. Seward in the senate—further reduced its moderate duties to an average of 19 per cent ad va lorem. Then it was that the protec tionists raised the cry that this ac t caused the panic of 1857, when the fact is that it was not adequate to arrest the consequences of over speculation in a period of great in dustrial and commercial prosperity.
Such was the success of British free trade in precisely the same period that at its end the protectionists, un der the lead of Minister Disraeli, went into parliament and acknowl edged their permanent defeat.

On the other hand, the "friends" of the tariff in this country availed themselves of the panic of 1857 and of the Civil war to create the series of enactments that have culminated in the Dingley tariff, with its 100 per cent duties on woollens and its long train of pampered trusts. Not to men tion the efforts of the enemies of the tariff to reduce its duties in 1883, which was met by its "friends" with raising the rates, the only in terruption of the work of the friends was the Wilson tariff of 1894. To this moderate revision by the enemy the friends attributed the panic of 1893, more than a year before it was introduced in congress, and the strange thing is that protectionist super stition was so gross that this mon strous pretense met with large popular acceptance.

This brief review affords sufficient proof of the deception and false pre tense involved in the claim of re vising the tariff "in the house of its friends." It ought to be plain enough to every man in the land that this enormous trust-breeding fabric of op pression and spoliation can be razed only by its irreconcilable enemy, the great democratic party.

RESPECT THE LAW.

Respect for the law is the great est need of today, says a recent mag azine article. The head of a great corporation should be compelled to respect the laws regulating his cor poration, as he demands that others respect the law that protects the property of the corporation. The an archy of capital, breeding lawless ness, should be no more tolerated than the anarchy of labor, breeding riot and disorder.

Men should be taught that the un justifiable killing of a human being is murder, whether it be done by one as an individual or as part of a mob of a thousand. The dramsop keeper should be made to realize that the law governing his shop is just as sacred as the law that protects him in the enjoyment of his property.

We hear every day protests against enforcing the law relating to cor porations and tending to prevent evil practices. The protest is usually placed on the ground that prosperity is interfered with. No legitimate business can be hurt by eliminating the evil that may be in it. The in surance companies and the beef packers are in a better position today than they would have been had they not gone through the cleansing pro cess.

Without the law the capitalist would make no investments, for property would have no protection.
His gold would lose its value; his life would not be safely guarded. To the law he owes all, for without the law he would lose all, and he should respect and obey the law, even when it regulates his business or limits his earnings.

In bribery, violation of the gam bling laws, the dramsop laws or the railroad rebate laws there may be no individual injury, but there is al ways a public injury. Laws of this kind are the most difficult of en forcement, and unless the official who represents the public takes it upon himself to see that they are carried out, they often go unenforced.
They do not enforce themselves.
Without officials to execute them they are as useless as guns in war without men behind them.

With so many applications being made for the various appointive of fices, Mayor-elect Babcock and mem bers of the city council will have troubles of their own for the next week.

Of course, every person asking for a place has his own particular friends who will use every influence, political and otherwise, to land their candidate, and doubtless the question of who to appoint and who not to appoint will be a troublesome one for the powers that be.

All other considerations should be cast aside, though, for the one pa ramount one—the securing of first class, efficient and incorruptible pub lic servants.

Elsewhere in the Democrat-Sentinel today reference is made to the un sightly and unsanitary condition of the lot on the northwest corner of Third and Osage streets. This lot seems to have been overlooked by its owner when the general clean-up of the city took place. As suggested, it wouldn't be a bad idea to see that

SICK WOMAN ROUTS INTRUDER

Draws Pistol From Under Pillow
When Threatened.

Poplar Bluff, Mo., April 14.—Mrs.
Ella J. Lerosse, an invalid, drove an intruder from her home yesterday at the point of a revolver.

A railroad laborer entered the house through the front door, which had been left open by a servant and threatened to attack Mrs. Lerosse as she lay helpless on her bed.

She drew a pistol from beneath her pillow, and declares she would have fired had she not been afraid of missing the man and striking some one on the street. The man was ar rested and gave his name as Gus Lay man. He was sentenced to three months' imprisonment and fined $100.

A MAN AND SISTER HELD

THOMAS MCGONNIGLE AND MRS.
BURNETT BOUND OVER TO CIRCUIT COURT.

BOND WAS FIXED AT $5000 EACH

Couple Given Hearing on Charges of Killing Sister-in-Law—Mrs. Bur nett Fainted and is in Seri ous Condition.

Richmond, Mo., April 14.—The pre liminary hearing of Thomas McGon nigle and his sister, Mrs. Mary J.
Burnett, on the charge of killing their sister-in-law, Mrs. Maggie McGon nigle, which has been under way here since April 8, ended yesterday afternoon. The defendants were bound over to the circuit court for trial and their bonds fixed at $5,000 each.

The case has created the deepest interest in this section of the state, great crowds attending every session of the hearing. People from the country districts have come in to town as early as 5 o'clock in the morning to secure places where they could see and hear the proceedings.

The evidence was purely circum stantial and both defendants took the witness stand in their own behalf. A sharp clash occurred between the at torneys for the state and the defense over the question of a bond for the prisoners. The court finally admitted them to bail.

After the prisoners were taken from the courtroom to the jail Mrs.
Burnett fainted. She has heart trou ble and is subject; it is said, to sink ing spells. Her condition is regarded as serious.

Mrs. Maggie McGonnigle was killed and her home set afire February 10.

TRIAL BY BREAD AND CHEESE.

Old-Time Primitive Way of Convict ing Suspected Criminals.

There were many odd ways in an cient times of detecting criminals.
Our ancestors had not lived long enough to lose their faith in the gnawings of conscience, and divine in terference in earthly justice was superstitiously regarded as a daily oc currence.

No queerer example of this could be found than the ancient mode of trying prisoners by bread and cheese.
The unfortunate offender was led,
with a halter round his neck, to the parish church, and there in the pre sence of the people the priest put pieces of cheese and rye bread in a patten on the altar. These he blessed and then the supposed criminal had to eat them dry before the congregation.

If he managed to swallow them eas ily he was acquitted, but if he choked he was condemned. Naturally enough scores of innocent folk were thus done to death.—Pettson's Weekly.

PUT LAUGH ON THE ATTORNEY.

Legal Light the Victim of Swede's Peculiar Dialect.

At a court in western Massachu setts, a man was on trial, charged with having committed a robbery early in the summer, and his attorney was endeavoring to prove an alibi.

"Now, sir," said the prosecuting at torney, to the prisoner, "tell us where you were on June 15."

"In Yale," was the reply.

"Yale," snorted the attorney, con temptuously. "Listen to that, your honor! This ignorant man never was at Yale in his life. You know you are lying!" he said turning to the pris oner. "When did you leave Yale?"

"You lie, too," was the quick re sponse.

"Silence," roared the exasperated lawyer. "Your honor, I ask that this man be fined for contempt."

"May it please the court," inter posed the prisoner's counsel, who had been enjoying the scene hugely, "my client is a Swede. What he means is that he was in jail on June 15 and left there on July 2."

And the case was dismissed.—Illus

MAN'S HEAD WASHED ASHORE

The order of an Ohio Man Believed Revealed by the Find.

Cleveland, O., April 14.—The severed head of a body, supposed to be that of Michael Soboda, of Bedford, a suburb, was washed ashore from the river yesterday, revealing what is believed to have been a case of murder and robbery.

Soboda, with $900 in cash, left Bedford five weeks ago for Cleveland, where he had engaged a ticket for the old country. He never called for the ticket, and the police surmise that he was killed and robbed and his body thrown into the river.

GIFTS FOR THE TEACHER

CLOSED WHEN QUENTIN ROOSEVELT STARTED ON HIS SOUTHERN TRIP.

MYSTERY OF THE SCHOOL SOLVED

Son of the President Explains Why He Happened to Be Late for Several Mornings in Succession at Studies.

New York, April 14.—A special dispatch from Washington to the World says:

"The departure of Quentin Roosevelt on his southern trip has solved a mystery at the Force school. Throughout the winter one of the boys in a class of children about Quentin's age has been lavishing hot house blossoms on his teacher. Repeated inquiries brought out only the fact that the flowers were given to the youthful donor. Quentin left the city and simultaneously the daily floral gift failed to make its appearance. Now it transpires that the flowers came from the White House conservatory.

"Quentin and the boy had made a bargain. The president's son was to furnish a stipulated number of blossoms each day in return for a lot of 'milk tops,' which in school boy vernacular for the discs of pasteboard the milk dealers use in the tops of milk bottles. The children have a game which they play by means of these discs, and, moreover, a certain prestige attaches to the boy who can show the longest string of milk tops.

Quentin's friendship with the head gardener at the White House made the acquiring of a small bouquet each day no difficult matter, so the bargain was struck and everybody was happy.

Just before leaving Washington Quentin developed an unusual condition of dependency. Furthermore, he was several times in succession late for school.

"Quentin," inquired his teacher "what has gone wrong? You were late yesterday and the day before, and you are behind time again this morning."

"As the lad raised his head his teacher discovered vivid streaks of red about his brow and on his cheeks.

"Why, Quentin, what has marked your face up in that fashion?" she inquired.

"That's what is the matter," piped up Quentin. "I used some red ink to make up for a clown and the ink won't wash off. This morning father noticed it, and he gave me an awful going over. He says I'm a sight, and I guess he's about right," concluded Quentin.

GIRL WAS OTHERWISE ENGAGED.

Father Right in Thinking He Knew Cause of Her Preoccupation.

For some time the father of the family had suspected that his girl and the young man of whom he disapproved on account of his poetic tendencies had been riding downtown together and uptown together every day in the elevated train, says the New York Press. He hit upon a diabolic plan for verifying his suspicions.

"Wonderful progress they are making on the Pennsylvania station," he said.

The girl looked up dreamily. "Are they?" she murmured.

"Why, yes," said the father.

"Haven't you noticed it?"

The girl said she hadn't.

"And there is that big building at the corner of Thirty-something-or-other street," he went on, "that is going up just like magic. It seems hardly no time since it was only a hole in the ground; now it is 15 stories high, and they're ready to put the windows in. But maybe you haven't noticed that, either?"

"No," said the girl, softly, "I haven't."

To test her still further the father enumerated a dozen other improvements along the line that were bound to strike any observant eye. The girl had been blind to them all. The father went upstairs to the girl's mother.

"It's a hopeless case," he groaned. "She's dead in love."

He told the mother how he knew.

"If she wasn't steeped in love," he added, "and if she didn't keep her eyes fastened on somebody that talks nonsense to her every minute, she'd never have traveled over that road twice a day for the last three months without noticing some of the things I pointed out."

"Maybe she was reading," ventured the mother.

"Reading!" snorted the father.

"Yes, from the most popular book on earth. Call it reading if you like. I wouldn't be surprised to hear of their engagement to-morrow."

It was well that he was fortified against all such surprises, for that was that he really did hear the very next day. He had meant to storm and stew, still, as there was nothing against the young man except the poetry, and as the girl's heart was set on him—well, what could a father do?

Washington, April 14.—That the interstate commerce commissioner has no authority to require railroads to establish special fares based on less than the normal passenger mile revenue, for particular occasions, was held by the commission yesterday in the case of Al G. HE'S AN OLD BALL PLAYER

EXALTED RULER OF ELKS NOMINATED FOR CONGRESS IN PENNSYLVANIA.

HIS CHECK FOR $1,000,300 6000

He Was a Pitcher With the Spaulding Team That Went Abroad in 1889—Quit Baseball for Real Estate Business.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 14.—Less than twenty years ago John K. Tener, who, to the surprise of everyone, was nominated to congress from the Twenty-fourth congressional district, to succeed Ernest F. Acheson, who for fourteen years has retained his seat, was famous only as a National league baseball pitcher.

Today, besides being sure of a seat in congress, for a nomination is as good as an election by a republican in the Twenty-fourth district, Mr. Tener is the grand exalted ruler of the Elks, and is known all over Pennsylvania as a progressive banker. His check would be honored without a question for $1,000,000.

From 1885 to 1889 John Tener was a pitcher for the Pittsburg and Chicago teams. When, in 1889, A. G. Spaulding sent a team of ball players around the world, Tener was selected as one of the pitchers. Spaulding made him treasurer of the outfit.

They traveled in scores of countries where money had to be changed at every stop. When the teams returned to the United States his accounts were audited and an over-plus of 7 cents was found.

Spaulding was so pleased that he offered Tener a responsible position with his New York house, but he refused it, retired from the game of baseball and started into the real estate business.

Amusing Stories of the Gutta-Percha Ball and the Clubs.

They sat about the golf club smoking-room, pipes going freely, syphons and decanters, cigar boxes and cigarette tins littering the table.

"I was playing in front of that concealed westerner last year," said Butts.

"Undenably the man was in superb form. You never saw such powerful driving, and delicate putting. 'Fore!' I heard him yell, as I neared hole seven, and his ball a moment later fell beside me. No one was looking. I picked it up and dropped it in the hole. Then I went my way. Soon afterwards I heard yells of amazed joy and saw a crowd gather, and next day's papers were all full of the 'almost incredible feat of Mr. Spargo, our western visitor, who actually did hole seven in one.'"

"The choleric McGinnis," said Harker, "agreed to the other day to put a stone in his pocket every time, in doing nine holes, he said a bad word. He set off serenely, and returned two hours later in a flushed, moist state.

WORKING SOCIAL BUNCO GAME.

Woman Knew What She Was Doing in Giving Dinner Party.

Keeping up a social position on a small income sometimes requires very careful financing. A man who had frequently tried to argue his wife out of her social ambitions came home one evening very much surprised to find that she had made preparations for an elaborate dinner party.

"Why, my dear," he protested, "yesterday you thought you were coming down with the grip and you were hardly able to sit up."

"I feel worse to-day."

"And Mary has got such a terrible cold you're keeping her out of school."

"I know it."

"And Johnnie sprained his ankle skating."

"Yes."

"And you were sure last night the baby was going to have croup."

"She's still more likely to have it tonight."

"But when I wanted to send for the doctor you said we couldn't afford it, and now you're going ahead and giving this dinner party."

"Certainly! It's just because we're all ill that I'm giving it. I've invited Dr. Pills as our principal guest."

Dog Pinned Would-Be Murderer.

An outrage planned by the Black Hand society in Pittsburg, Pa., was frustrated the other day owing to the sagacity of a bulldog owned by a hotel proprietor. A man of suspicious appearance was in the very act of depositing a parcel in a window grating of the hotel, which is largely patronized by foreigners, when the dog seized him by the leg, and notwithstanding his struggles, refused to let go. The man was soon rescued from his exceedingly uncomfortable predicament, and it was then discovered that the parcel he had been carrying contained a bomb, with a time-fuse attached, sufficiently powerful to wreck the entire hotel, in which at the time there were about a hundred and fifty persons. He was immediately arrested.

A Sinking Lake.

According to recent reports, Lake Tahoe in the Sierras is falling rapidly. The lake is situated on the boundary of Nevada and California, near Reno, Nev. Some time ago it was observed that the waters were receding. In a few weeks' time they had dropped fully six feet. The cause of the subsidence is a mystery. Two years ago the waters rose rapidly to such a height that the surrounding towns were seriously threatened. The lake is very deep, and is situated in what some believe to be an extinct volcano. Possibly the mysterious changes of level may be due to volcanic action. According to a legend of the Washoe Indians, the waters once were hurled out of the lake by some subterranean force, and overwhelmed the inhabitants of towns in the valley to the east.

Fish of Unknown Species.

There was recently landed at the South Dock, Swansea, South Wales, wharf by the Swansea trawler Adelaide a very queer fish. It was a snake or serpent, of a yellowish hue, with curious brown marks all over its skin. It was three feet long and four inches in diameter. It has no fins whatever. This strange catch was found in the trawls off the coast of Morocco, and is now in the Swansea Royal Institution. The oldest hands in the business aver that so strange a fish has never come within the range of their experience before.

HER BODY IN A RAVINE

This Nebraska Girl Had Been Missing Since Last December.

Rosalie, Neb., April 14.—The body of Lillie Olson, the child who disappeared from the home of her parents near here early in December last year, was found yesterday by two little girls who were picking flowers on the prairie. The body was in a ravine two and a half miles from the Olson home. It was identified by the clothing.

There was nothing to indicate that the little girl was killed. It is believed that she died from hunger and exposure. It is difficult to explain, however, that the body escaped detection when the district was gone over; time and again by searching parties at the time of the disappearance. Gypsies were at one time accused of kidnapping the girl and arrests were made.

Kuenzler came to America 24 years ago. He was without means and secured work as a hostler at hotels in New Holland, Honeybrook and Elverston. It was while engaged in this capacity that he met Kofroth and when other homes were barred to him the clerk gave him shelter and clothing. Kuenzler died at Rothsville. Kofroth had neither hope nor prospects of reward, and was dumbfounded upon receipt of the news.

First Lessons in Sculpture.

Modeling presents an ideal form of amusement and instruction combined for the little ones, nor is any occupation more dear to the childish heart. Some doctors and nurses declare that the clay used by sculptors is unhygienic, nor is it very easy to obtain in small quantities. A substitute may be found in paper pulp. Tear a quantity of newspapers in small pieces and pour boiling water over them, allowing them to remain soaking several hours. Pick this pulp well to pieces and mix thoroughly with a little thin flour and water paste; a trial or two will enable one to determine the proper consistency. This may be molded like clay, into birds, animals, figures, dishes, etc., which, when they are quite dry, may be colored with water color paints.

A FARMHAND SLAYS TWO

SHOOTS MARION BRIDGES AND EPH. BRIDGEMAN, NEAR CAMPBELL, MO.

SELF-DEFENSE IS W. R. BELL'S PLEA

The Killing Is Said to Have Resulted From the Ill Treatment of Women and Three Daughters.

Kennett, Mo., April 14.—W. R. Bell, formerly of Sharon, Tenn., a farm hand, aged 41, shot and killed Marion Bridges and Eph Bridgeman near Campbell, in the north part of this county, yesterday.

Bell surrendered to Constable D. B. Faughn, who lodged him in jail here. Bell admits the shooting and claims self-defense. Coroner Rigdon went to the scene of the tragedy and held an inquest. The jury returned a verdict fixing the responsibility for their deaths on Bell and recommending action by the prosecuting attorney.

Both Bridges and Bridgeman were visitors at the home of a Mrs. Johnson Saturday night and Sunday morning. A woman giving the name of Mrs. Dawson is said to have accompanied the two dead men to the Johnson home and to have been a witness to the killing.

Ill treatment of Mrs. Johnson and her three daughters is said to have aroused Bell's resentment. He is said to have induced her and her children to leave the place and accompany him to Campbell.

As he emerged from the house, it is said, a shot was fired, and Bell drew his own weapon and shot Bridges three times, one bullet piercing the heart. Bridgeman next fell under the fusillade.

Bell closed the house and requested a teamster en route to Campbell to notify the marshal.

"HELLO" GIRLS INDIGNANT

Face Powder, Peroxide and French Heels Barred.

The females in the employ of one of the telephone companies in Kansas City, Kas., are highly indignant. The cause of the flurry is an edict which, it is alleged, has been issued by the superintendents of the exchanges in Kansas City, Kas., who have ordered that henceforth face powder, peroxide and French heels must be discarded by the girls who press the buttons and plug the switches.

Under penalty of dismissal the operators, it is said, have been commanded to refrain from the powder puff, the peroxide bottle and the high-heeled shoes. There is no escaping this edict, for the superintendents, who are the highest court of appeal for the telephone girls, have ordered it.

The hesitating maid who applies for a situation as operator must now truthfully answer the three questions covering the barred articles before she can take up her course of instruction in the "new" operator's school.

ALL AFTER THE BLUE RIBBON.

Remarkable Unanimity of Knowledge in Sunday School Class.

"Now, children," said the teacher of the infant class of a Sunday school, "I told you last Sunday that each of you who learned a verse from the Bible and recited it to-day would receive a large blue ribbon. Let me see how many of you have learned a verse."

There were 20 or 30 boys and girls from four to eight years of age ranged about her in a circle. For a moment there was no response to her question. Then a bright looking girl timidly raised a hand.

"Ah! Julia has learned a verse," the teacher said. "I am sorry that no more hands are raised. I had hoped that nearly all of you would get a blue ribbon. But I suppose your mammas and papas have been very busy and some of you forgot. Well, Julia, let us hear your verse."

"Walk in the light," the little girl repeated. Then a boy who sat near Julia put up his hand.

"Oh!" exclaimed the teacher, "Charlie has a verse, too. What is it, my boy?"

"Walk in the light," responded Charlie.

"Well," said the teacher, "you learned the same verse, didn't you? It's a very good verse, too. 'Walk in the light.' I hope we may all do so. Now, is there any one else who has learned a verse? Why, I see five, six, seven, eight hands raised. I will hear from you, Arthur, first."

"Walk in the light," said Arthur.

The teacher looked rather hard at Arthur, and said:

"Gladys next. What is your verse? Speak out loudly so that all the class may hear."

"Walk in the light!" shouted Gladys.

By this time all but two of the children who had not been heard from were holding up their hands. The teacher looked at a boy whose name she had forgotten and asked: "What verse have you learned?"

"Walk in the light," replied the whole crowd in chorus, each little one apparently fearing there would not be another chance to win the blue ribbon.

The Wizard.

Some years ago an expedition from the University of Pennsylvania was sent to one of our southern states for the purpose of observing a solar eclipse.

The day before the event one of the professors said to an old darky belonging to the household wherein the scientist was quartered:

"Tom, if you will watch your chickens to-morrow morning you'll find that they'll all go to roost at 11 o'clock."

Tom was, of course, skeptical; but at the appointed hour the heavens were darkened, and the chickens retired to roost. At this the negro's amazement showed no bounds, and he sought out the scientist.

"Professor," said he, "how long ago did you know dem chickens would go to roost?"

"About a year ago," said the professor, smiling.

"Well, ef dat don't beat all!" was the darky's comment. "Professor, a year ago dem chickens wasn't even hatched!"—Harper's Weekly.

One of Britain's "Little Wars."

Trouble is expected in India, where the most troublesome and pugnacious of the Afridi tribes, the Zakka Khels, tall, powerful, fierce and cunning, have worn out the patience of the government, and a punitive expeditionary force had been dispatched against them. Seven thousand carefully selected men compose the force and they will be pitted against 30,000 warriors. The present expedition was only decided upon after a number of the most serious raids, in which treachery, plunder and murder figured in great degree. On account of the inherent treachery and natural wickedness of the warlike tribes Great Britain is called upon to engage in a war with them about once in every ten years.

A Comparison.

"What we want," said the economist, "is some plan by which a dollar can be made to do more work."

"That's right," answered Farmer Cornstossel; "my experience with a dollar is like my experience with the horse over in that field. Even when I manage to get hold of it I find it has kicked up its heels and run away before I can get it half-way hitched up."

In Wrong.

"Your husband is greatly in need of exercise," said the doctor. "He's indoors too much. He'll have to get out more."

"Out more!" exclaimed the wife. "He's been out every night this week. That's what's the matter with him."

Realizing that he was in the wrong, the doctor left a prescription and promised to call later.

IS FOR NEGRO SOLDIERS

SENATOR FORAKER SPOKE IN SENATE TODAY IN BROWNSVILLE AFFAIR.

DECLARED THEM TO BE INNOCENT

Said That They Asked No Favor Because of Their Color, but Only Justice Because of Their Manhood.

Washington, April 13.—A careful analysis of the testimony taken in the investigation of the shooting up of Brownsville, and an argument in favor of the re-enlistment of the colored soldiers of the Twenty-fifth regiment was made in a speech today by Senator Foraker, of Ohio, in the senate.

He said that nothing now remains for the negroes complete vindication except only the discovery of the real culprits, and declared that most of the witnesses against the colored soldiers gave testimony sufficiently contradictory to show that it is wholly unreliable. He concluded with a very complimentary reference to the negro troops, saying: "They ask no favors because they are negroes, but only for justice because they are men."

Made to Feel Young.

"Last week I celebrated my twenty-sixth birthday," announced the bachelor girl. "It made me feel suddenly very old, and I was very, very blue. That night, to cheer me up, my chum took me to the theater. We were having the most beautiful time, when a gray-haired lady in the row behind leaned forward and said to me, 'Little girl, does your mother know you are here?' That settled it. If I was 26, at least I didn't look it. I went home much cheered and decided that I wouldn't have to take to knitting work and an ear trumpet this year at least."

SANG "ABIDE WITH ME"

In a Louisville Church When Suddenly Stricken Dead.

Louisville, Ky., April 14.—While the audience was standing, singing the last words of "Abide With Me," a young woman in the congregation of the First Christian church Sunday night toppled over with heart failure. She was carried out at once and in five minutes was pronounced dead.

Hundreds of people filed by her body in the undertaking establishment where it was taken and no one could identify her.

She looked to be no older than 24 years and had a heavy head of auburn hair. She wore a black serge suit. The only things found on her were a purse, monogrammed "W," a handkerchief marked "A," and a card bearing the name of "S. Roschfeld."

Stomach Self-Protecting.

The reason why the stomach and intestines do not digest themselves was once thought by Weindland, a German experimenter, to be that they defend themselves by anti-enzymes, or anti-ferments. Dr. Nandor Klug of Budapest now reports these anti-ferments not to be found, but that the mucin present in the inner half of the gastric mucous membrane resists the digestive action of the trypsin and the gastric juice. The digestive organs, therefore, protect themselves by the mucin they secrete.

WIFE YIELDS TO "AFFINITY"

A Chicago Man Publicly Given Up by His Spouse.

Chicago, April 14.—Mrs. Johanna Blazer, the legal wife of Rudolph Blazer, a widely known Chicago man, publicly surrendered her husband yesterday to Miss Annie Pförtner, the "affinity" with whom he fled from New York to Chicago.

It was the case of a woman who had followed her husband in a country-wide chase, found him apparently happy with another woman, and in a burst of sacrifice went out forgiveness to both and hoped they would be happy.

"If he loves you more than he does his wife and two children, take him," sobbed Mrs. Blazer, as she wrung the hand of her rival for the man's affections. "I have no enmity toward you, and only hope he may not deceive you as he did me," she continued.

"I met him in the Catskill mountains," said Miss Pförtner to the police. "We found we loved each other and I came to Chicago with him. We had expected to be married soon and for that reason I had taken his name."

ADMITS ROBBING HIS DEPOT

Braymer Station Agent and His Confederate Confess.

Braymer, Mo., April 14.—George Doel, night operator at the Mawan-kee railroad station in Braymer, who was found bound and gagged in his office Friday morning, and who reported that two robbers had thus secured him before robbing the company's cash drawer of $250, yesterday confessed that he and a confederate had committed the robbery.

The confederate, Charles Michaels, bound and gagged Doel after the robbery. Michaels also has confessed, and both are in jail at Kingston, having been held for the criminal court.

Both made signed statements.

The money, with the exception of some checks that had been burned by the two, was found buried in Michael's garden.

Michael's father is already in the jail at Kingston, charged with deserting his family, who live in Braymer. Doel's parents live in Wichita, Kas.

Marie, aged 13. The eldest child, Charles, died in 1900.

Mr. Kelly also leaves several brothers residing in Pennsylvania.

Rev. A. A. Boyd, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, will conduct funeral services at the home of C. C. Kelly at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon, and the remains will be shipped to Knobnoster on the 2:50 a. m. train that day and interred in the family burying ground in the Knobnoster cemetery.

Mrs. E. F. Yancey will be in charge of the music and pallbearers will be selected from among the old friends at Knobnoster.

Letter Writing.

Writing interesting letters doesn't come naturally to me, and there are a good many people with whom I must keep in touch through letters, if at all. So I have got into the way of keeping a notebook and jotting down in it brief notes to remind me of little bits of news that will specially interest my different correspondents. I even jot down a little joke sometimes, says Home Chat. Then, when spare time comes to write my letters my notes are ready to hand, and the interesting scraps of news don't go flying away directly I put my pen to paper, as they used to do. Everybody tells me my letters are much more interesting than they used to be. If so, that is the secret.

TOO MUCH FOR MRS. DRUMMOND.

Ingratitude of User of Telephone Was the Last Straw.

When the Drummonds put in a telephone they were lavish in their offers of hospitality to the neighbors. "It's the unlimited kind," said little Mrs.
Drummond, proudly. "So it doesn't make a bit of difference how long or how often it's used."

As time went on, Mr. Drummond noticed that when he returned to his pretty suburban home at night his wife's face often wore a tired and harassed expression. At last one night she seemed so depressed at the dinner table that Mr. Drummond felt the time had come for him to speak.

"I'm sure it's that telephone that's at the bottom of your trouble," he said, grimly, in the midst of his awkward attempt at comfort. "Come on,
you might as well tell me about it."

"I haven't minded the Lawtons discussing all their diseases with the doctor over it, because they have low voices," said Mrs. Drummond sadly.
"And I've tried not to listen when Mrs.
Gray ordered her groceries and provisions and haggled over the prices."

"It wasn't pleasant to have Miss Howard scold her dressmaker, and then have the dressmaker call up our number next day and screech that until her last bill was paid Miss Howard would have no new gown."

"None of those things were pleasant, but I didn't say anything," faltered Mrs. Drummond. "But day before yesterday Mrs. Lombard came in while I was out. Lena told me when I got home that Mrs. Lombard was here telephoning a lot of time. And to-day some lady in town called up our number and said, 'Kindly tell Mrs.
Lombard that Miss Keith regrets that after all she will be unable to go to Mrs. Lombard's tea on Saturday.'"

"Horace, she's ordered all the things and invited all the people over our wire, and never asked me at all!"—

Headache from Eyestrain.

Basing himself on his records of nearly 1,300 eye examinations, Dr. S.
W. S. Toms claims that 90 per cent.
of all those suffering from reflex or neuralgic headache have ocular defects, declares a writer in the Family Doctor.

Over 600 of the patients examined were altogether unaware of their defect. Fully half the cases were of only slight refractive errors or muscular unbalance, and it is in these cases in which ciliary spasm is the direct factor in causing headache in persons whose occupation calls for near vision that accommodative asthenopia results.

A Man and Her Pet Dog Get Two of the Three Shots.

Pittsburg, April 14.—Magistrate
Frank J. Brady yesterday held Julia Kain in $300 bail to await the result of the injuries of Joseph Johnston, whom she shot in the right foot. Mrs.
Kain owns a poodle and Mrs. Mattie Williams a bulldog. Sunday night the poodle rushed at the bulldog, and the bulldog caught the poodle by the neck.

Mrs. Kain heard her pet yelping, and when he was being trounced she got a revolver and fired three times.
The first shot missed, the second entered the body of the suffering dog and the third struck Johnston.

ROBBED MORE THAN FORTY PLACES

All Three Are Now in Jail and Have Made Confession—Quite a Sensation at Bridgeton,
New Jersey.

Bridgeton, N. J., April 14.—A woman operating in men's attire proves to have been one of the daring burglars who have been doing much work and causing so much alarm in Bridgeton recently. The mystery has been cleared up and householders breathe much freer.

Harry Blizzard and Mrs. Elizabeth Parsons were arrested last night for stealing from the Arctic Ice and Milk Co., and were caught with the goods by Detective Frank J. Lore, who got a signed and corroborated confession from the man, stating that he and Mrs. Parsons had robbed about forty places, with the assistance of the latter's adopted daughter, Mamie, aged 18, within the past few weeks. Both women were men's clothing to avoid detection, and mother and daughter entered many of the houses with him.

All three are now in jail. Blizzard is about 25 years old and hails from Cedarville, but has lately been residing at the Parsons house, having an infatuation for the girl.

Benjamin Franklin Thorn, aged 55 years, night watchman for the leg and milk plant, who let the women in almost nightly for six weeks past and furnished them with large supplies of butter, milk, sugar and horse feed, which they carried off, is also under arrest. He, too, made a full confession.

GETS $4,500 FOR A KISS

Mrs. Bergerman's Caress Marked Down $250 From First Trial.

Duluth, Minn., April 14.—Mrs. Olga Bergerman, of Hibbing, was yesterday awarded a verdict of $4,500 for a kiss. This is a reduction of $250 from the verdict at the first trial.

Mrs. Bergerman was a tenant of Jacob Kitz, of Hibbing, and claimed that he one day kissed her by force when he called to collect the rent.
Kitz's defense was blackmail.

WESLEY'S WIFE AND CHILDREN.

Two Sons Early in Life Showed Remarkable Musical Genius.

Charles Wesley's reputation has suffered not a little from the overshadowing predominance of his brother, says a writer in Zion Herald. There is no disputing, however, but that at one point he greatly surpassed both John Wesley and George Whitefield—he had a most happy wedded life. It was in the spring of 1748, when he was no longer young, that he first began seriously to entertain thoughts of marriage.

Miss Sarah Gwynne, a girl of 23, daughter of a pious family occupying a high position in Wales, attracted him by her many lovable qualities.
Brother John heartily approved the match. There was trouble at first on the part of the bride's people over the question of a settled income, £100 a year being thought the smallest amount that would suffice. This was finally guaranteed from the profits of the books, and Saturday, April 8, 1749,
the wedding took place, John Wesley tying the knot.

It was an ideal Christian marriage, blessed with eight children, of whom three grew up, and two became very celebrated musicians. These two were Charles Wesley, Jr., and Samuel. Both showed remarkable musical genius from their earliest years.

Charles was a great favorite with George III., his private organist occasionally at Windsor, and very early created much excitement by his wonderful performance of Handel's works.
He played a tune to the harpsichord at the age of two years and nine months. He was called by one of the highest authorities of the day "the greatest genius in music I met with."
His death was in 1834.

Samuel (who died in 1837 leaving a numerous family) was recognized as the best organist of his day and was a gifted composer. At the age of eight he wrote an oratorio called "Ruth" which was much admired. For several years he and his brother gave a series of famous concerts at their father's house. Among his sons were Rev. Dr. Wesley, sub-dean of the Chapel Royal, and also Samuel Sebastian Wesley, organist of Gloucester cathedral, and composer of many pieces, three of which are in our hymnal.
The latter died in 1876.

Showed Practical Greatness.

Samuel Oppenheim, who died recently in London, left handsome legacies to various charities. His last will and testament is a curiosity in its way. It begins with a grave thank offering for the prosperity of his long life. "I thank the Almighty," runs the opening sentence, "for the kindness dominate in Fashion's parade on Easter morn'.

Never before have we had more reason to elaborate over the excellence of our garment showing, and the various groups of tailored suits are, in the opinion of SE-DALIA'S FASHION FOLLOWERS, quite the most interesting of all,
combining every feature which tends to correctness. They're ideal for Spring—Easter wear.

New Orleans, La., April 14.—Frank
C. Stewart, engineer of a pump station on the Illinois Central railroad near Hammond, yesterday gave his life in a successful effort to save a 13-year-old boy from being crushed to death by a freight engine which was bearing down upon him.

Stewart jumped on the track and hurled the boy aside, but was unable to get out of the way himself, and was killed. His brother is chief clerk to the division passenger agent of the road. His wife died three weeks ago. The family is well known and

U. S. GRANT JR. SUES FOR NOTE

Seeks to Replevin Personal Paper Representing $7,950.

St. Louis, April 14.—Ulysses S. Grant, Jr., of Los Angeles, Cal., son of the late President Grant, filed suit in the circuit court here yesterday to replevin a note of $7,950 from Dr. H. P. Wells, W. F. Little, a broker, and C. H. Lawrence, of Chicago. Mr. Grant's attorney says his client never received anything in return for the note.

Dr. Wells and Little, to whom it is understood, Lawrence turned over the note as security for a loan, were offering the note for sale at the court house door when a deputy sheriff took it from them and delivered it in to the custody of the court.

RUMBLINGS OF THE RAIL

TEXAS LINE CHARGED WITH FAILURE TO ISSUE BUSINESS REPORTS.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

Suits for penalties aggregating more than one million dollars from each defendant were filed yesterday in the district court at Austin, Tex., by Attorney General Davidson against the Houston & Texas Central, Houston, East & West Texas and the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe Railroad companies.

The roads are charged with failure to obey orders of the railroad commission, issued last August, requiring reports of freight handled, legal department expenses and loss and damage claims.

The railroads are asked to pay $5,000 for each day of failure to report after thirty days from issuance of orders.

Similar suits against the Texas & New Orleans and the Galveston, Harrisburg & San Antonio Railroad companies were recently dismissed by District Judge Wilcox on defendants' general demurrers.

A Spike Derails a Train.

Boys playing about the Missouri Pacific railroad track at Salina, Kas., placed a spike on one of the rails at a curve.

Westbound train No. 3 from Kansas City to Denver struck the spike at 8 o'clock, derailing the engine. No one was injured, as the train was running at a low rate of speed.

FAKE DRY GOODS SALESMAN

Says He's Traveling for Emery-Bird-Thayer Dry Goods Co.

Springfield, Mo., April 14.—A letter has been received by Sheriff George W. Sims from the Emery-Bird-Thayer Dry Goods Co., of Kansas City, in regard to a man giving his name as P. Michaelson, who has been traveling through Kansas and Missouri, representing himself as an agent of Emery-Bird-Thayer.

The letter states that Michaelson has been selling subscriptions for a magazine which he claimed was sent out with a catalogue for forty-five cents a year.

The letter from the company states a number of complaints have been sent in by people who have paid for the publication and who have never received it.

The only description given on the would-be salesman is that he is undersized and wears a college cap, apparently being a college student.

Sheriff Sims and the police department have been notified to be on the lookout for Michaelson and to arrest him if he attempts to work in Springfield.

ANNA GOULD "GOLDEN CALF"

Says James E. Campbell, Speaking From a Columbus Pulpit.

Columbus, O., April 14.—Ex-Governor James E. Campbell, speaking at the First Congregational church Sunday night on "The Golden Calf," after depreciating the present rush for wealth and the leaving of millions to children, said:

"The papers have been full of accounts of the doings of the daughter of a man who left $70,000,000, and who married one worthless, degenerate Frenchman. When she couldn't stand him any longer she left him, and is preparing, the papers say, to marry his cousin, who, if possible, is even more worthless and degenerate. In this case she is the golden calf."

At another point he said: "If Moses had been a member of the present general assembly he would not have voted to abolish capital punishment. There was no mawkish sentimentality about Moses. He made the Israelites literally to swallow their idolatry."

ATTACKED BY LARGE MOB

CHESTER, PA., STRIKE SYMPATHIZERS RESENT PRESENCE OF TROOPS.

SCORES OF SHOTS WERE FIRED

Constabulary Stand Their Ground and Charge Rioters—Riot Marks First Day of the Traction Employees' Strike.

Chester, Pa., April 14.—Maddened by the stationing of a detail of twenty men of the state constabulary around the car barn and headquarters of the Chester Traction company to protect the property because of a strike, declared yesterday morning, of the employees for recognition of the union and higher wages, 3,000 men and women of Chester, sympathizers with the motormen and conductors, attacked the troopers.

The assault on the state police was made shortly after 6 o'clock last night. Drawn by the frenzied cries and pistol shots of the rioters, practically the entire population of Chester rushed to the scene of the battle and witnessed it from every vantage spot.

Police officials, the mayor and sheriff declared that no call for the troopers had been made and that their presence here only added to the excitement. For their presence the constabulary showed a message which they asserted, came from the chief of police. He denies he sent it.

The police were called from their beats early in the day, when the strike was proclaimed, and a trolley car, the only one seen during the entire day, was mobbed, the glass windows smashed, the woodwork partly demolished and the motorman and conductor, strike breakers, sent whizzing down a side street, with angry crowds of hundreds at their heels.

Scores of pistol shots were fired during the melee and clubs and bricks hurled through the air at the state constabulary. Mounted on horses, the troopers made ready targets. The horse of one, Private Sullivan, was struck by a bullet and felled. The ball was plainly intended for the trooper, as were other bullets and missiles thrown by the excited rioters.

Although they were outnumbered 300 to 1, the troopers pluckily held their ground. The crowds surrounded and threatened them, and the barrels of revolvers were thrust in their faces.

The men under the command of Capt. John C. Groome, of Philadelphia, did not flinch. They refrained from making any attempt to display their authority until a dozen men attacked a single trooper at one end of the line. Then his comrades rallied to his aid. The crowd thought they were being attacked, and they again let loose a shower of bricks and clubs.

Twice troopers rode into the crowd swinging their clubs, and at each whack, a man dropped to the pavement. In this way, two dozen men and women, possibly more, were injured. Louis Dunn was knocked down by the horse of Trooper Ely and they asserted, came from the chief of

A MURDER IS CONFESSED

CHARLES L. HINCHER TELLS HOW HE STABBED MRS. BEZZIE MULLALLY.

HOW IDENTITY WAS DISCOVERED

Aged Woman Called His Name When He Caught Her By Throat—Was Caught in East St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., April 14.—Confronted by evidence of his guilt gathered by detectives, Charles L. Hinch, negro, 25 years old, residing at 18 South Fifteenth street, confessed last night to the murder and robbery of Mrs. Bezzie E. Mullally, 72 years old, in her home at 14 South Fifteenth street, last Saturday night. He was not left-handed.

The confession was made after the negro had been sweated for hours in the office of Assistant Chief of Detectives McCarthy. The negro was arrested a few hours after the discovery of the body at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning by Detectives Ferie, La Barge, Scarry, Joyce, Boyle, and Smythe of headquarters, who were assigned to the case.

The body of Mrs. Mullally who was reported wealthy, was discovered by Mrs. John Krieger, who lives in a part of the house at the same Fifteenth address, about 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning. A knife and a burned pocketbook found in the grate indicated murder and robbery. A deep gash in the aged woman's throat showed the manner in which she had been killed.

Mrs. Mullally was the mother of Mrs. Dr. Ozias Paquin, of 5095 Fairmount avenue, and had for years resided in the old house where she was slain, against the wishes of her daughter. She lived alone and as it was known that she usually had considerable sums on her possession, her relatives had long feared that she would be attacked and robbed.

The negro was arrested shortly after noon yesterday by the six detectives. He resided next door to the house where the woman was slain. He was noticed in the adjoining yard. He was called to the fence and questioned and as he seemed evasive in his answers, was taken into custody.

Asked as to where he had been since Saturday night, when the aged woman was last seen, he said he had been in East St. Louis. Detectives Ferie and La Barge were immediately dispatched to that side of the river and secured information which resulted in the confession. It was learned that on Saturday afternoon the negro had no money, but when he was arrested he had a sum of money, a watch and chain and a ring in his pocket. It was also learned that he had spent money freely in East St. Louis.

He made many conflicting statements, saying first that he had been paid $40 for work and again claiming he had won a considerable sum in a "craps" game. Last night Detectives Ferie and La Barge returned to headquarters bringing Will Reynolds and Alex McCauley, both negroes, residing at 217 North Seventh street, East St. Louis. They told of a roll of money exhibited by the negro when he met them on Saturday night.

Entangled by his own conflicting statements and becoming nervous under the strain of the long cross-examination, the negro at last broke down and confessed.

"I was broke and sick," he said; "I had not been working regular because I was unable to do a hard day's work. Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock Mrs. Mullally, whom I knew well, asked me to run an errand for her. I went and got 5 cents' worth of crackers. Then I got to thinking about how I was broke and she had money. I decided to go back and rob her."

"I rang the front door bell about 7:30 o'clock and she let me in. I grabbed her by the throat. She asked me if I wanted money."

"Then I saw that I was in bad and though I might as well end it all. I threw her down on the floor and tried to keep her from calling for help. I had a knife in my vest pocket and I let go of her with one hand while I got it out. I stuck it in her throat and held her while she struggled."

"Then I went in another room and looked for money. There was a pitcher and I picked it up to wash my hands. It was empty and I went to the hydrant. I threw the knife in the grate, and, going back to the hall, lit a match and found her pocketbook on the floor, where she had dropped it. It had $17.50 in it, which I took out and then threw the purse in the fire. "I did not look again at the woman, but went out of the rear door and jumped over the fence. I borrowed a 'dime' from a friend and got a clean shirt from a laundry. After I changed my clothes I went to East St. Louis to the home of my stepfather, Edward S. Hawkins, a mail carrier, at 215 North Seventh street. I did not return from there until Monday morning."

GRAY NOW A CANDIDATE

DELAWARE'S JURIST ASPIRES TO THE PRESIDENCY OF THE COUNTRY.

HEADQUARTERS AT WASHINGTON

Both Capital and Labor to Support Him, So They Say—Democratic Voters All Over the Country Favor Nomination.

Washington, April 14.—Judge Geo. Gray's boom for the democratic nomination for president will be formally launched today by the democratic state convention of Delaware.

The selection of a delegation pledged to the Delaware jurist is little more than a matter of form, and the proposed action of the convention has already had its effect in the national capital.

Gray headquarters have been established here and a Gray league is already in process of formation.

For the present the efforts of the Gray boomers will be confined largely to New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, the New England states and the south.

Supporters of the Delaware jurist declare that he will have the support of both capital and labor, in case he should secure the nomination.

It is asserted that his adjudication as chairman of the anthracite strike commission has made him the firm friend of the union miners, and that other organizations also favor his nomination. Judge Gray's successful fight against the force bill in the United States senate is alleged to have won for him the support of thousands of southern democrats.

From present appearances Judge Gray will likely prove a more formidable opponent to Bryan than is Governor Johnson.

It is declared by the anti-Bryan democrats that the east and the southeast have lacked only a strong leader in order to successfully revolt against the nomination of Bryan, and that Judge Gray's entrance into the political arena will likely herald a democratic uprising that will spread from Maine to the gulf.

It is not expected that it will be possible to create much Gray sentiment in the west.

Friends of Bryan are not alarmed at the candidacy of Judge Gray and discount the statements of the Delaware man's supporters.

It is pointed out that many of the delegates to the New York democratic state convention today are pledged to Bryan, despite the fact that the state is the center of the opposition to the Nebraskan, who has

CHARGED WITH CONTEMPT

Sheriff and Deputies, Who Permitted a Negro Lynching.

Washington, April 14.—Argument will probably be heard by the United States supreme court tomorrow in the case of Sheriff Shipp, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and nineteen of his deputies, who are charged with contempt.

The charge resulted from the lynching in Chattanooga of Ed Johnson, a negro who had been convicted by the state courts of assaulting a white woman.

Attorneys for the negro appealed to the supreme court, and while the appeal was pending the negro was taken from jail by a mob and hanged. It is alleged that Shipp and his deputies did not take proper precautions to protect the negro.

A BIG LEAGUE IN DIXIE

SOUTHERN STATES BASEBALL TEAM TO OPEN SEASON TOMORROW.

THE WELCOME CRY OF PLAY BALL

Memphis to Play Little Rock, New Orleans Vs. Mobile, Nashville Vs. Atlanta, Birmingham Vs. Montgomery.

Memphis, Tenn., April 14.—Dixie's big league baseball season will be opened tomorrow, when the welcome cry of "Play ball" will resound on four diamonds in the sunny southland. The Southern league season this year opens five days later than last season, but will consist of 140 games.

The most important change is the transfer of the Shreveport franchise to Mobile. Baseball enthusiasm is at high tide in the old city on the gulf.

And the change is likely to be a profitable one to the league.

Much strengthening has been done by all of the club managers and the outlook is good for one of the most successful seasons in the history of organized baseball in the south, with an exceptionally hot fight for the coveted pennant.

Memphis will open the season at home tomorrow, playing the Little Rock team. New Orleans opens at home with Mobile. Nashville will play at Atlanta and Birmingham will play at Montgomery.

OBSTINATE ULCERS MAY LEAD TO CANCER

There is no difference, at first, in the appearance of a cancerous and a common ulcer, and for this reason every sore that is obstinate or slow in healing should excite suspicion, for the sore is nothing more than the external evidence of a polluted blood, and if allowed to remain may degenerate into Cancer. Efforts to heal the ulcer by means of salves, plasters and other external remedies always result in failure, because such treatment can have no possible effect on the blood, where the deadly germs and morbid matter form, and are carried through the circulation to the place. No sore or ulcer can exist without a predisposing internal cause, and the open, discharging ulcer or festering old sore will continue to eat deeper into the surrounding flesh as long as a polluted, germ-infected circulation discharges its impurities into it. S. S. S. goes to the fountain-head of the trouble, and drives out the germ-producing poisons and morbid impurities which keep the ulcer open. Then as this rich, purified blood goes to the diseased place the healing begins, all discharge ceases, the inflammation gradually leaves, new tissue and healthy flesh are formed, and soon the sore is permanently cured. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots and herbs of a healing, cleansing nature, and unlike mineral medicines, which often do great damage to the delicate parts of the system, S. S. S. tones up every part of the body. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice desired free.

COLGATE HOYT RETIRES

AS PRESIDENT OF THE AMERICAN AUTOMOBILE CLUB OF NEW YORK.

JUDGE GARY WILL SUCCEED HIM

Motorists Begin Their Annual Spring Meeting at New York City Today—Annual Election of Officers Took Place.

New York, April 14.—As a result of the annual election of officers of the Automobile Club of America today, Colgate Hoyt voluntarily retired from the presidency and will be succeeded by Judge E. H. Gary, of the United States Steel corporation. Judge Gary has consented to accept the office.

Harry Sanderson, who has been a member of the board of directors and in charge of the club garage, which, under his superintendency, has become the first institution of its kind in America, takes the first vice presidency of the club.

The candidate for second vice president is William G. McAdoo, and for third vice president Robert Lee Morrell, now the chairman of the club's contest committee. Edgar L. Marsion is on the ticket for treasurer.

Seven places in the board of governors are to be filled at the annual election, and for these places also the ticket proposes highly representative men. Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt and General Horace Porter head the list, which is completed with the names of F. D. Underwood, president of the Erie railroad; Waldron Williams, now chairman of the club's bureau of tours; Colgate Hoyt and Dr. Schuyler Wheeler.

William Pierson Hamilton is proposed for re-election. The members of the board whose terms do not expire at this time are Col. John Jacob Astor, George F. Chamberlain, Dave Hennen Morris, W. E. Scarritt and Albert R. Shattuck.

Hannibal Woman Moves to Stop Work on New Park.

Hannibal, Mo., April 14.—Injunction proceedings were instituted in the common pleas court yesterday before Judge Eby in chambers by Mrs. Mary Snyder and others against J. J. Cruikshank and the Hannibal Baseball club to prevent the locating of a baseball park on certain property in the city owned by Cruikshank and leased by the baseball club.

Considerable work has been done on the new park and the opening game was to have been played next Friday by the Quincy team and the Hannibal team. The plaintiffs in the suit allege that a baseball park in that part of the city would be a nuisance.

OFFER $40,500 IN STAKES

GRAND CIRCUIT MEETING TO BE HELD AT COLUMBUS, O., BEGINNING SEPTEMBER 21.

THE COLUMBUS DRIVING PARK CO

$10,000 is offered for 2:16 Trotters; $5,000 for 2:14 Pacers—Every Heat Will Be a Race With Four Entries.

Columbus, O., April 14.—Entries close today for seven stake events, worth $40,500, that will be features of the $100,000 program that the Columbus Driving Park company has decided to offer for its next Grand Circuit meeting which begins Sept. 21, and last two weeks.

The Hostet-Columbus stake for 2:16 trotters is worth $10,000 and will be raced the first week with the Hotel Hartman $5,000 event for 2:14 pacers as a companion.

In each event every heat will be a race and four horses, instead of three will share the money division.

The Columbus $3,000 for 2:09 trotters and the board of trade $3,000 for 2:07 pacers will be raced the first week under the old novelty plan.

For the second week the board of trade and bankers' stake of $10,000 will be the richest one. There will also be the king for the 2:07 pacers and the merchants for 2:19 trotters. Each is worth $5,000.

All three of these stakes will be decided on the three in five plan that provides for a race to the end with the fifth heat. The money will be split between the first six horses instead of the first four as customary.

The winner of the board of trade and bankers will get $4,000. Others will receive graded amounts, the sixth being allotted $800.

Treasures Found in Our American Forests.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers of this and other countries. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., believes that our American forests abound in medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we would properly investigate them, and, in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the most marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action.

The reason why "Golden Medical Discovery" cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

To aid in healing old sores, or ulcers, apply Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve to them while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" to purify and enrich the blood.

Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve is cleansing and pain relieving. It destroys the bad odors arising from suppurating, or running, sores and puts them in the best possible condition for healing.

The "All-Healing Salve" is a superior dressing for all open, running, or suppurating, Sores or Ulcers. It healing open wounds, cuts and scratches it is unsurpassed.

If your medicine dealer does not have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock mail 50 cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and you will receive it by return post.

In treating all open sores, or ulcers, boils, carbuncles and other swellings, it is important that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery be taken persistently to purify the blood and thereby remove the cause of the trouble. It is in the blood that the great battle of health has to be fought. The ulcer and the sore are simply the scarlet flowers of disease, with roots running down into the blood. These roots must be eradicated or the disease will break out afresh. "Golden Medical Discovery" cleanses the blood of all foul and poisonous accumulations, pushes out the dead and waste matter, and thus purifies the entire life current. Disease in the flesh must die out when it is no longer fed by foul blood. "Golden Medical Discovery" effectively cures disease in the flesh by curing its cause in the blood.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of unsolicited testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it of catarrhal pelvic drains, painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus and other displacements caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus and kindred affections, often after many other advertised medicines and physicians had failed.

Nursing mothers and over-burdened women in all stations of life, whose vigor and vitality may have been undermined and broken-down by overwork, exacting social duties, the too frequent bearing of children, or other causes, will find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the most potent, invigorating, restorative strength-giver ever devised for their special benefit. Nursing mothers will find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting an abundant nourishment for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a priceless boon to prepare the system for baby's coming and rendering the ordeal comparatively painless. It can do no harm in any state, or condition of the female system.

Delicate, nervous, weak women, who suffer from frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down distress low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, gnawing or distressed sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, see imaginary specks or spots floating before eyes, have disagreeable pelvic catarrhal drain, prolapsus, anteversion or retroversion or other displacements of womanly organs, from weakness of parts, will, whether they experience many or only a few of the above symptoms, find relief and a permanent cure by using faithfully, and fairly persistently, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle wrapper.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take as candy.

Grand Celebration Being Arranged for the Affair.

Quebec, Ont., April 14.—Preparation on a grand scale are being made for the reception of the Prince of Wales and other distinguished guests from England, who will be here in July to participate in the celebration of the Champlain ter-centenary.

Applications for rooms and suites at local hotels are coming in from all over the world and there is every prospect that the old city will be crowded as never before.

The Rothschilds have engaged a suite at the Chateau Frontenac for the entire period of the celebration. Lord Dudley, governor general of Australia, will be among the distinguished visitors. A new series of Canadian postage stamps, commemorative of the ter-centenary, will be issued by the postoffice department.

THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Baseball Teams Will Open the Season Tomorrow

Chicago, April 14.—What President O'Brien predicts will be the most successful year in the history of the American association will be opened tomorrow, with Minneapolis at Toledo, St. Paul at Columbus, Kansas City at Indianapolis and Milwaukee at Louisville.

The schedule for the season provides for 154 games, closing on September 14. All of the club owners have greatly strengthened their teams and the fans of every town on the circuit are having visions of a pennant winning team.

From present indications, the fight will be a close and exciting one, with every club having a look-in for the victory.

STOLE WHILE ON HER KNEES

Worshippers Were the Victims of a Chicago Woman Pickpocket.

Chicago, April 14.—As she knelt in prayer Sunday night at St. Elizabeth's Roman Catholic church a woman for whom the police have been searching for several weeks was caught by Sergeant Dillon as she was in the act of stealing a pocketbook.

Dillon told her to rise from her knees and accompany him. She did so without those near her knowing that she was under arrest.

At the police station she was identified as Mary Miller, 37 years old, who, the police say served one year in the house of correction for stealing a pocketbook at St. James Episcopal church.

A search of her room revealed thirty pocketbooks and small handbags.

Somewhat Different.

Green—On the strength of your assertion that you would trust Win-dig with your life I loaned him ten dollars, and now I can't get it back.

Brown—No, and you never will. Green—Then why did you say you would trust him with your life?

Brown—Oh, that's different. Windig's a deadbeat all right, but he is not an assassin.

A Retraction.

With a sigh she laid down the magazine article upon George Washington. "The day of great men," she said, "is gone forever."

"But the day of beautiful women isn't," he responded.

She smiled and blushed.

"I was only joking," she explained hurriedly.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

20,000 IN CELEBRATION

KANSAS CITY DEMOCRATS COMMEMORATE THEIR RECENT VICTORY.

ENTHUSIASM WAS AT HIGH PITCH

Mr. Cowherd Says Party Won Because It Was United—There Ought Not to Be Any Trouble This Fall.

Kansas City, Mo., April 14.—Twenty thousand democrats crowded into Convention hall last night and the doors were closed to 5,000 others who stood outside.

The occasion was the ratification of the first democratic victory here of the year, gained by the democrats on last Tuesday, when the ticket headed by T. T. Crittenden, Jr., for mayor, was elected.

Delegations were here from St. Joseph, Excelsior Springs, Liberty, Harrisonville, Joplin, Platte county, and from three points in Kansas, the Jayhawk democrats having caught the fever.

A program arranged for speaking was cast to the winds, enthusiasm overturning everything.

W. S. Cowherd, candidate for governor, Frank Walsh, former Mayor James A. Reed and the mayor-elect alternated between the inside of the big hall and the outside, where there was an overflow meeting. Cheers were sent up for the state democracy.

Mr. Reed commended the press for its stand for democracy and received rousing cheers.

Mr. Cowherd said that the victory was the result of a united party, "and we must remain so if we are to carry the state. There must be no reviving of the troubles of four years ago and before. We have gone down to defeat in this city too often, on account of old sores. We are here tonight to tell each other that we can go on to victory when we leave the old troubles behind us—where they ought to be."

The democrats of the state can be depended upon to elect a good ticket if it is placed before them, and to get a good ticket we must all work hard."

THE HUSBAND IS ACCUSED

The Wife of a New York Manufacturer Slain.

New York, April 14.—Mrs. I. Liberman, wife of a shirt waist manufacturer who has a small factory in the Bronx borough, was found murdered in her apartments in Courtland avenue yesterday. Her husband was taken into custody pending an investigation by the police. Her throat was cut, and there was a great cut in her left side.

Liberman left his home yesterday morning to go to his factory, but soon returned, telling the janitor of the apartment house that he had forgotten the keys to his factory.

A few minutes after he went to his apartment the janitor heard screams and found Liberman in the hall with a blood-stained knife in his hand.

Liberman applied to a lawyer last Saturday to secure a summons for his wife, accusing her of infidelity, but the summons was refused because of Liberman's condition.

Illustrated Card Not New.

Prompted by the action of the Royal academy at Leipzig in offering prizes for the best examples of illustrated visiting cards, Moritz von Weitenhiller recently read a paper before the IX Libris society of Austria, in the course of which he said that the illustrated card was not a new idea, but simply the revival of an old one. He showed many specimens of old-time cards from his own collection and from that of Privy Councillor von Horken and expressed the hope that the artistic card might "find favor everywhere, not only because it would be a benefit to the artists and artisans who are ready to design and execute the new style of cards, but because it would break a monopoly which, considering our artistic tastes, it seems strange should have endured so long."

Time Reminders Unpopular.

A woman who wished to entertain a great deal one day wondered why her guests always seemed so uncomfortable.

"It is because of your clocks," said a candid friend. "There are three within hearing distance of your drawing room that strike. I don't know of anything that makes company feel quite so uncomfortable as to hear a clock strike. Somehow it is bound to give the impression that we have overstayed our welcome and the hostess is anxious to get rid of us. Of course that is purely a matter of fancy, yet somehow a striking clock always seems to say, 'You'd better be going.' The wise hostess knows that, and if she wants her callers to be thoroughly comfortable she shuns a clock that strikes."

A HANGED MAN'S BODY LOST

While Relatives Hunt a Casket Mother is Prostrated.

Louisville, Ky., April 14.—The body of Leo C. Thurman, the West Point, Ky., boy who was hanged in Norfolk, Va., Friday morning for the murder of Walter P. Dolsen, his roommate, failed to arrive at his home at West Point Sunday for burial, and Charles Thurman is now making efforts to find the casket of his brother.

According to dispatches received by the family shortly after the execution of the death sentence the remains were to arrive at West Point Sunday at noon.

Arrangements were made to that end and the family and relatives were gathered at the little burying ground, awaiting the arrival of the train.

When the body was not received, friends immediately telegraphed to the authorities at Norfolk, who replied that the body was sent in time to arrive at West Point by Sunday noon.

Mrs. Kate Thurman, the mother, is in a dangerous condition from prostration and grave doubts are felt for her recovery.

WHY BAR THE CHILDREN?

DEFACE PROPERTY AND DRIVE OUT OTHER TENANTS, 'TIS CLAIMED.

ARE MANY KINDS OF LANDLORDS

Have Sound Proof Walls and Floors in Flats Built Especially for the Noisiest Little Youngsters.

"What would this world be without children?" demanded a homeseeker of a man he had fixed upon as a landlord, says the New York Tribune. The landlord admitted that "it wouldn't be much."

"Think of the dearth of it!" pursued the homeseeker. The landlord thought.

"The little cherubs make heaven in a house!" continued the homeseeker, warming to his subject. That wasn't exactly what some tenants had told him, the landlord recollected, but the difference was only one of name. He implied as much.

"You were once a child yourself?" reminded the homeseeker. The landlord allowed that he must have been, but he looked as though he doubted it.

"My children are angels," the homeseeker asserted.

"That's what they all say, but—" began the landlord.

"When can you have the flat ready for us?" concluded the homeseeker.

"It's cost me a lot of money, tons of worry and some good tenants to get rid of the children I've had," announced the landlord, "and I've said to myself that I'll never take any more."

His tone did not admit of argument. Even the touching picture which the homeseeker drew of gurgling little angels excluded from the rights of home by inhuman tyrants did not move him. He had heard it all before. There had been a time when he had yielded to such eloquence. That was before his janitors took to ringing him up frenziedly that they might show him to what a state his well ordered house could be brought by a little expenditure of energy on the part of tots whom he could almost put into his pocket.

He remembered a morning when he hurried into a hall to see his gold eaton wall panels covered all over with signatures that were useless upon checks, scarcely decipherable upon picture postcards, and yet considered highly ornamental upon brocade satin as affording an effect of chiaroscuro hitherto lacking. The janitor showed him that the charcoal and pencil drawings applied to marble stairs were far from decorative, and that balustrades and hall furniture, while they might serve to test the sharpness of pocketknife blades, were never the better for it. He recalled, with bitterness, missing a large irregular square of costly brocade from a hanging and discovering, after diligent search, that little Alice had made of it an Afghan for her dolly's carriage.

"Wasn't it just too cunning for her to think of that?" the young mother asked him. "But, of course, I am sorry about your curtain," she added in a tone he felt to be one of heartless indifference. "Perhaps it can be patched. Alice has the piece; she has only fringed the edges."

"Patched!" he choked on the word. He gazed at the fluffy blue and gold creature Alice called "Muvver" and realized that he couldn't say anything that she would understand, or, if she did, would listen to without offense.

Sometimes he is wrought upon to tell of a little boy—a merry youngster, full of innocent fun—who had lost sundry tenants for him and embroiled several families in violent quarrels before the mystery of the cause of their feuds was revealed.

"It happened once when I was Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weaknesses and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not remedy itself.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cure in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional endorsement or such of its efficacy in curing the most common and number of ordinary non-professional ailments. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and is held as confidential. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

handy," he said, "and I went right to the flat where I was sure it came from. The maid looked innocent when she let me in. The parlor bay window was open to admit icy breezes, and a little boy was on the sofa doubled up with laughter. He seemed to be so tickled that I began to laugh, too.

"What's the joke, sonny?" I asked. "Oh, ha! ha! ha! he gasped. 'I filled the paper bag with water and when the lady got under the window I dropped it on her head—he! he! he!—an' it went pop! an' she said 'Ouch!' Oh, ho! ho! ho!' he squirmed in ecstasy.

"I thought for a moment of laying him over my knee, and then I thought better of it. His father was the one to wield the shipper. If I had been his father!

"And all that time the Joneses had accused the Smiths of throwing pails of water over their glad rags, and the Smiths had claimed that the Joneses or the Blacks had been responsible, and serving maids had been reduced to tears and tantrums and neighbors to suspicious enemies, all for the amusement of one little cherub, scarcely out of his frocks!"

"Why don't landlords want children for tenants?" repeated a house owner after me. "Young man, I am just going to see a complaining tenant. You may come with me."

He threw open the door of an apartment house with indignant emphasis and pointed an accusing finger down the hall. Baby carriages and gocats were lined up in the corridor. Some had pink and blue umbrellas and some had no umbrellas at all. Dirty, woolly and furry and lacy things hung from them. They contained little filled pillows, Teddy bears, rag dolls and an occasional bottle.

"Sale?" I ventured.

"Sale nothing!" he returned heatedly. "Babies! I've either got to get rid of some of these or lose one or two of my best tenants. They say their nerves won't stand the screaming and that they must have some sleep at night. And then, just look at my halls!"

"You keep your rugs very fresh—considering," I remarked.

"No wonder they are fresh," he assented, irritably. "I am continually buying new ones. Last Fourth of July there were holes enough burned in my hall rugs to make sleeves of them, and you ought to have seen my entrance and the sidewalks! Anybody would think the place was a fort in a state of active defense. It was a holiday, and prospective tenants came to see it, but they did not come nearer than the corner—they saw more than they wanted to from there. Patriotism is all very well in its place, but it has no place in a decent apartment house."

"Why won't I take children in my apartment houses?" echoed an agent. "A burnt child dreads the fire. I took tenants with children—once. For one thing, tenants don't like board of health signs pasted in the entrance halls—posters proclaiming diphtheria, or scarlet fever or measles or some of the things children are continually picking up on the fly. They don't even try to make these posters artistic.

"Then, too, children have no appreciation of values. Their inquiring minds move them to unscrew, pull down and pry up everything in the way of fixtures, ornaments, gas logs, tiles and parquetry that their ingenious fingers can get at. It never occurs to them that throwing hard objects at chandeliers and windows will cause anything to break, and they have no superstition whatever about smashing of wall mirrors. They don't have to live down the seven years' hoodoo.

"Along with the bump of destructiveness there exists in them a well developed passion for making a noise. Some apartment houses are built with 'deadened' bricks in walls and under floors to render them impervious to sound. Builders had in mind pianos and family jars, kitchen scraps and such things. Nothing renders the racket of hearty children impenetrable. Actually, to judge from sounds proceeding from places where they are romping you'd think the children were ripping up the floors, throwing around the furniture and swinging from the chandeliers. How they do it? Search me!

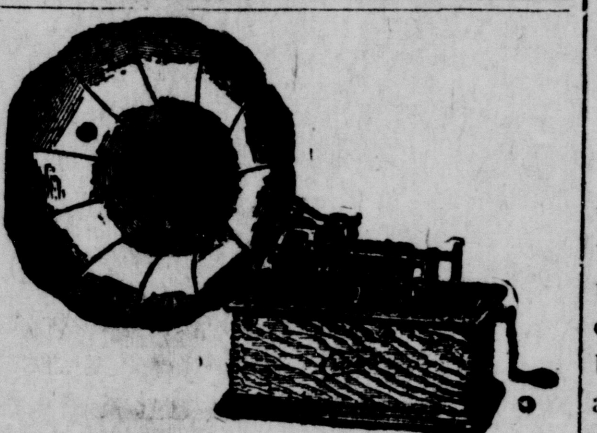

"One old couple used to come shuffling over to the next house, not taking time to put on hat or wrap, to find out who or how many had been killed, whether a chimney had fallen down or a wall fallen out, only to discover that it was the children going down stairs.

"Of course, tenants who aren't deaf and haven't any children of their own complain. A whole family precipitated themselves into the elevator to escape from their apartments under the roof, declaring that a tornado was ripping off the iron sheeting and scattering around the slate and chimneys. The janitor ventured to the scene of disturbance and reported that all the children in the house were on the roof with a dog, teaching him to jump as high as they themselves could.

"Childless tenants assert that if children could be kept out of the halls and their noise confined to their own domain life might be endurable. Parents say these cavaliers are heartless. At all events, the liberty of the halls is seldom denied the children. On a rainy day they make a sort of endless chain on the staircase and scurry from floor to floor when they hear pursuing hall attendants coming to stop their noisy play. Sometimes they make friends with these hall boys, and then the entrance hall is selected for romps, with an occasional dash out into the rain. It never appears to occur to parents that elevator and telephone operators are not all trained in manners and morals as associates for growing children, who invariably pick up everything they hear."

When landlords endure children as tenants janitors are prone to make parents feel that their little ones are merely endured, and it is with great reluctance that they bring from basement regions childish vehicles of various kinds, which must be stored there between the hours of usage. The child is made to feel early in life that the apartment dwelling has troubles all its own. First comes the "shooting" off that favorite playground—the front steps—after which life for the strenuous child becomes almost a continual wrangle.

A few landlords, pitying the little

One of the Important Duties of Physicians and the Well-Informed of the World is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the uniform quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known to physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the California Fig Syrup Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfect equipment and the ethical character of its product has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing, therefore we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the approval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and the same heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

ones, driven out of most of the first class tenement houses in Gotham, are constructing houses especially for families with children. Walls are floors are being so thoroughly deadened that it is promised the noisiest children may play to their heart's content without fear of interruption from an irate neighbor. Of course, this costs money. Doubtless paterfamilias will find that it comes just as high as ever to house his olive branches.

The ancient cliff dwellers best solved the families in flats problem. Their houses were hewn in solid rock. Children can make a good deal of racket in a rock hewn chamber without an echo of it piercing to the ears of the sleeping infant of the flat above.

DOWNWARD COURSE.

Fast Being Realized by Sedalia People.

A little backache at first.

Daily increasing until the back is lame and weak.

Urinary disorders quickly follow.

Diabetes and finally Bright's disease.

This is the downward course of kidney ills.

Don't take this course. Follow the advice of a Sedalia citizen.

R. D. Marshall, of 624 East Fifth street, Sedalia, Mo., says: "My wife complained greatly of a pain across her back. It seemed to be worse in the morning or if she caught the least cold it was sure to settle on her kidneys, causing a too frequent action of the secretions. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills recommended at the W. E. Bard Drug Co., I procured a box for her. They helped her in a short time and since using them she has had no back ache. She can recommend your medicine without hesitation to anyone as being exactly as represented."

First Thing

"When I Feel Bad"

writes Mrs. R. H. Cox, of Jasper, Ala., "the first thing I do, is to take a dose of Cardui, and it relieves."

"I have kept Cardui in the house now, for about 12 years, am nearly 50 years old, and have no female trouble, like so many women."

"What a wonderful medicine Cardui is! I wish I could put it into every home in the world. When any woman is at my house, and complains, I just give her a dose of Cardui. I am glad to tell other women what it has done for me. I tell women, right before the doctors, to get themselves a bottle of Cardui, and they won't need any doctors.

"Before I began to take Cardui, I was very sick with female troubles, and the doctors said I could not get well without an operation, so I just stopped fooling with the doctors and began taking Cardui, which cured me, sound and well. I have not had to go to bed a day since I first took Cardui." Sold everywhere. Try it.
